By: Noor Siddiqi – 3rd Year Communications Engineer at Carleton University

Web Designing – CHEO's Therapeutic Clown's Website

Volunteering in CHEO helped me gain many memorable experiences and it made me think of pursuing a career in Communications Engineering or become a Software Developer. At CHEO I got to edit Molly Penny's (CHEO's therapeutic clown) website. Her website was old and hadn't been updated in a while. Therefore she suggested I try editing it. I made some collages of her friends and put them on the website. I typed in new jokes as well and added in some animated gifs. All these things brightened up her website. I hope people enjoy it as much I did making it. I have included a file which contains a screenshot of the whole website or please use the link I have included below. Also look at the French website. I have updated that one as well. See if you can find my name on the website.

I used my web designing skills, photo editing skills to create the website.

http://kids.cheo.on.ca/en/MollyPennyMail?mid=ctl00_MainMenu_ctl00_TheMenu-menuItem002-subMenu-menuItem002#/photos/6/resized_A_Moment.JPG